

Dog and Cat Boarding at the Wolf River Veterinary Clinic, Inc.

Our Facilities:

In a separated area from the hospital we have 28 dog kennels. We have many outdoor exercise runs for the dogs.

We also have numerous cat cages and a cat condo, which allows the cats more space to move around. To lessen the stress on the cats, we have given them a room that is separate from the dogs.

Why board at a veterinary clinic?

Many pets have medical conditions that require ongoing treatment or care. Some animals may also develop transient problems, such as diarrhea, while boarding. The trained staff at a veterinary clinic can easily deal with these cases.

In addition, should an elective procedure, such as dental care, vaccination and nail trim may be requested during a pet's stay, this could easily be accommodated at our clinic.

Boarding Fees:

Cat .....$9/day

Dog .....$15.00/day

Special Needs Pets.....Additional $5.00/day
(Extra Assistance, Diabetic, Medical Injections, ETC)

Requirements for boarding:

All pets must be current on their vaccinations. This includes rabies, distemper, & "kennel cough" for dogs. If a pet is not current, the vaccine for kennel cough (Bordetella) must be administered 7 days prior to admission to boarding; other vaccinations can be administered at the time of admission. The client understands that if their pet does not have a vaccination for kennel cough (Bordetella) 7 days prior to boarding Wolf River Veterinary Clinic is not responsible if the pet contracts kennel cough.

The clinic reserves the right to treat (at owner's expense) any pet admitted who is carrying fleas or ticks. We use only safe, effective approved products, such as Frontline or Vectra 3D.
